

SPAR CAFÉ

OUR HISTORY

Similar in character and vintage to its neighbor in Centralia, the Olympic Club, The Spar had long been known among travelers of the old Pacific Highway as a key stopping-off spot for a hearty meal, game of pool or hand of cards, finished with a great smoke. Of course, locals, from loggers to legislators, made regular pilgrimages to the place to have a drink with friends. Built in 1935, The Spar was a more refined version of its predecessor, the notoriously rowdy Oxford Saloon. From the 1940s, to our renovation of the place in 2007, the mobilizing force of the place was lead by the McWain family and stalwart employees such as bartender Vi Lenhardt and host/bookie, Stan Parsons
