INTRODUCTION & HISTORY

Welcome to McMenamins Kalama Harbor Lodge – a tropical-inspired oasis along the Columbia River – nestled between Kalama’s landmark totem poles and the marina at the Port of Kalama. We’re a 40-minute drive from Portland and about 2 hours from Seattle. Inspired by the Hawaiian heritage of John Kalama, the property is reminiscent of the Pioneer Inn in Lahaina, Maui, Hawaii. You and your guests are sure to feel the relaxation of an island vibe while taking in the beauty of the Pacific Northwest.

McMenamins celebrates the community and its magnificent Columbia River setting through original art and visual surprises around every corner – including a historical take on many of the rooms. Our event space is fondly named Old 97 for the railroad switch engine used to disassemble and reassemble train cars on the massive transfer ferry that crossed the Columbia River at Kalama. This contraption was built by the Northern Pacific Railroad when it began service between Portland and Tacoma in the mid-1870s.

Beyond the event space, the island-inspired 40 guestrooms each have private bathrooms and individual lanais, most with a view of the river. Explore the Cloud Bar on the rooftop and enjoy a handcrafted beverage from the onsite brewery.

Dine for breakfast, lunch or dinner in the Pub or on the wraparound patio.

Let McMenamins Kalama Harbor Lodge be the place for your next meeting, event or celebration.

Start the day with the Longshoreman's Breakfast Sandwich or the Northern Exposure Scramble. At lunch, specialties include rice bowls and sandwiches with a Hawaiian twist, as well as pizza, burgers and salads. The dinner menu also includes fresh fish options, as well as McMenamins favorites and island-influenced flair, such as Kalua Pork and Seared Ahi.

HARBOR LOUNGE

Relax and have a McMenamins handcrafted ale, cider, wine, spirit or coffee. If it's a Wednesday or Thursday night, we'll have free live music for your entertainment.

CLOUD BAR

Come for the birds-eye view of the Columbia River that's just beyond our glass panels, and stay for the signature tropical drinks: the Three Rocks Rum Daiquiri and the Mai Tai – or the onsite brewery's first ale, Pau Hana Gold. Watch the boats come and go, handcrafted refresher in hand.

AHLES POINT CABIN

Meander along the path that leads from the hotel past the totem poles and Louis Rasmussen Day Park to Ahles Point, where you'll find a small log-cabin built by Kalama manufacturer Mountain Log Homes. The Cabin will be warmed by fireplaces inside and out, with a patio and views of the Columbia River.

BREWERY

Peek through the windows in the lobby to discover the brewery, or follow the aroma of freshly spent grain as it escapes through the roll-up garage door. The brewery houses a shiny new 7-barrel brew system with modern conical fermenters in bright stainless steel with copper accents. This brew house is equipped with two brite tanks that will assist in the maturation & clarifying process, a welcome addition in the modern production of craft beer. A particularly pleasing aesthetic in the brewery is our onion-domed copper-covered brew kettle, manufactured by Pioneer Tank & Vessel out of Portland – this shaped metal component is a first for McMenamins and as far as we can tell, a first in the Pacific Northwest.

You may catch a glimpse of our Kalama Brewer. Stop in and say hello and try a Kalama specialty brew before you go.

HARBOR LODGE MARKET

Across from the Brewery, stop in the market. Get a pint while you shop or a growler fill to go; our taps include McMenamins cider, seasonal beer, standard beer and nitro coffee. Our staff will custom-make a drink at the espresso bar, where there are also fresh pastries made daily.

Take home an old favorite or discover something new from the multiple coolers filled with McMenamins' beer and guest cider and beer to go.

Gear up with McMenamins T-shirts, hoodies, bar accessories, drinkware and gifts. Headed to the park and port? We've got swimsuits, kites, Frisbees and snacks to go.

CATERING SUGGESTIONS

We use fresh, local ingredients, and offer housemade desserts. Not to mention McMenamins handcrafted ales, wines, cider and spirits, as well as our house-roasted coffee.

Browse our banquet offerings to get a sense of the Island-inspired feeling of Kalama Harbor Lodge. You could pick the North Shore Buffet with Island Slaw, Three Rocks Jerk Chicken, Coconut Shrimp and Banana Bread pudding. And add the Tiki Pupu Party menu with Year of the Dragon Pork Sliders and Egg rolls as a pre or post event snack. These are just a few of our unique menu items, with so many more to choose from.

It's best to order enough of each item so everyone can sample. For stand-up receptions, we recommend finger foods, avoiding a knife and fork. For events, we recommend:

- Afternoon reception (3 p.m. 'til 5 p.m.): 7-10 items per person
- Evening reception (5 p.m. 'til 8 p.m.): 12-14 items per person

For party planning items, popular selections include Crab Cakes, Hazelnut-Crusted Brie, Spicy Tuna Tartare.
